

Chuck Willing

Chuck Willing received a bachelor's degree from Williams College in 1984 and a law degree from Boston College Law School in 1990.

Chuck has been an attorney with Rath, Young and Pignatelli, P.A. in Concord, New Hampshire for 13 years. He has represented developers, operators, sellers, buyers and lenders with respect to the development and financing of landfill gas-to-energy projects and other small energy projects across the country.